GENERAL

KEEP IT FREE

Before departing to see Uncle Sam and the Land of Poms, I'd like to say goodbye to the many friends I've made in P.N.T.M.C., over the last 2½ years. I intend to return in July '75 if all is well. May I wish all a very happy New Year. May I also invite you to a barbecue the date of which will be Saturady 19th July. (Provisional), to see you all again on my return to P.N. I'm hoping that the N.Z. Deerstalkers will kindly allow us to use their hut again on that weekend, as the previous barbecue I held there was seemingly enjoyed by all. A Later newsletter will confirm details, which will be made by the committee. I'll provide the sausages if you'll provide the mouths.

From James Read

PAST TRIPS

15th-17th NOVEMBER KAIMANAWAS

We left P.N. in pouring rain, by the time we reached our destination the weather had cleared, which made tramping up the Waipakihi River very pleasant.

As planned we met up with the fitter members of the club, who had traveled over the tops by way of Urchin. A number of both parties were then able to make a round trip.

Both groups so impressed by the area that further trips where planned for The New Year.

Taking part:- Ann Clarke, Mary-Ann whitehead, Pam Dicks, Bill Griffiths, Trevor Stretton, and James Read.

31st DECEMBER – 5th JANUARY KAIMANAWAS

After being misled (see Mr. Hoare) the two loads met to celebrate New Years Eve in the middle of the Dessert Road, with the rain pouring down. We huddled under a fly, and without a corkscrew, we finally managed to force the cork with a screwdriver into the bottle. There we sat celebrating New Years Eve with two paper hats each, and two mugs (not each between the six of us).

First Day dawned, a bright and brilliant morning, we started out for Urchin, with wonmderful views, which gave many chances for photographs. We dropped into the Waipakihi River for a refreshing swim and selected a suitable campsite beside the river.

Second Day. We meandered upstream form one swimming hole to another eventually reaching our accommodation at Waipakihi Hut.

Third Day. Woken by a continual buzzing sound, later realizing that they were blow-flies, thousands of the things, bombarding every object within 50 yards of the hut.

After climbing endless peaks, we finally made Junction top, which is a 5000 footer. On route we could hear the sound of water, we dropped down to find pleasant moss covered ground, with fresh underground water pouring forth.

We then set out on an adventure into the unknown, commonly known as bush bashing, arriving back to the hut from the head waters of Waipakihi River, only to find our fellow comrades had piked out to the pub.

Owing to good luck of other hut dwellers we were fortunate to dine on fresh venison steaks.

A visit was made by the Forest Rangers in a helicopter, we declined a lift out.

Fourth Day. Another beat day and much indecision as to which route to take. We decided to take to the tops after being informed of an abundance of water at Umukarikari. We tramped across the tops admiring the exquisite views of the central North Island, dropped down to the scrub line, we proceeded to make camp and build a BATH. We took turns to wash hair, beards and other objects!!!

Fifth Day. 1½ hours from the River, a short sweet mornings tramp down hill and all still in good spirits and looking forward to a dip in Lake Taupo.

The adventures; Christine Batt, Mary-Ann Whitehead, Mary Ryder, Pam Dicks, Trevor Stretton, and Julian Dalefield.

29th DECEMBER COPPERMINE

A pleasant day trip to Coppermine Creek in sweltering summer weather was lead by Stuart McLachlan. All were sweating profusely all day, especially our leader who had needed to employ what can euphemistically be termed 'an original way' of assembling the trip gear.

It was Stuart's first trip as leader and all hope his future trips will be as enjoyable.

After an easy walk up to Coppermine Creek Hut, some decided to go and look for Coppermine under Ian's leadership, whilst other headed for Billygoat Creek under Stuart. In the latter's party were Julian, James, Kim and Peter. Julian has learned by experience now not to do battle with trees, but we hope his cut snout is not too sore for too long. We all looked with interest at times given on two notices on the track relating to the time taken to travel between Coppermine and Billygoat, members assume that the erectors did the timing whilst traveling either on the winner of the Melbourne Cup, or a racing camel! Seriously folk, it seemed a bit on the optimistic side for all but the fittest. On entering Coppermine Hut, there was a most offensive smell of rotten food – we removed the source to outside. In the heat of summer, opened tins of food will soon go bad, so please NEVER leave them in a hut. Apart from this, they are a source of food poisoning.

Participating in the trip were:- Stuart McLachlan (Leader), MartinSpeller, John Valentine, Doreen Coenders, Peter Edwards, Kim McKay, Pam dicks, Julian Dalefield, Keith Margain, Ian Hoare, Glenn Dixon, and James Read who wrote this report.
