PAST TRIPS

6th-7th November BLUE RANGE – COW CREEK

We chose the bit of grey-blue sky out of the black and followed our noses up to blue Range. The plod continued around the top of the ridge and down to Cow Creek Hut where we spent the night ..... sleeping. Next day we retraced our steps at a leisurely pace, through lightly falling snow.

Trip Members: Bruce Parker, Cheryl Philips, Alan Parker, Viv. Mawson.

LABOUR WEEKEND IN THE KAIMANAWAS

A mixed "easy" and "fit" party used Hydro Access Road 15 to gain access to the Waipakahi River in the Kaimanawa Ranges.

The trip up the river involved many crossings, some of which were of a critical depth for short people. A cold wind plus a little drizzle added to the delights. Several other parties were encountered, most of which were in for a weekend's shooting.

Camp was set up early in the day about half way up river towards the Waipakahi Hut.. Everyone settled down in their pits and drifted off for an afternoon nap. The nap became extended and tea was eaten late in the evening.

On Sunday it was decided to leave the camp set up and everyone climbed onto the Middle Range via the Waipakahi to Rangitikei track. Views were eventually available when the fog lifted.

Roy and Trevor did a round trip over Thunderbolt and up the Middle Range to the Waipakahi Hut. At the hut one Ken Ross and a party of Freyberg High School pupils were in residence. They told of an epic walk in over Umakarikari Range while 4 inches of snow fell. A Wellington party at the hut left to make camp in the upper Waipakahi River and Roy and Trevor returned down river to their party.

Sine the weather by this time had turned fine and sunny John Carter and John Stretton slept in the tussock grass by the river. They claimed their night was comfortable despite the frost lining their sleeping bag covers.

A party of shooters on horse back with dogs in attendance overtook the party on the walk down river on Monday. Horses are more adept at crossing rivers than people on foot.

Partry: Roy Wilson, John Carter, John Stretton, Craig Baird, Brad Owen, Trevor Bissell.

P.S. Bill Frecklington and Peter Darragh were picked up from the Tukino ski Field Rd. on the way home. They had spent a couple of nights on Ruapehu, one night being in a snow cave.
